

International Women’s Day: Theme of the year, 2018- “Press for Progress”

The women’s cell of D.K. College, Mirza has celebrated the International Women’s Day on 08th March, 2018 with much enthusiasm. In this year an awareness programme has been organised by the forum. As a part of the programme, a procession and felicitation programme have been organised which is related with the theme of the year “Press for Progress”. In the first phase the procession has taken place and all the members of the cell and students particularly girl students (almost 327 participants) participated in the procession. Dr. Phanindra Ch. Thakuria, the Vice Principal of the college inaugurated the procession. After procession the felicitation programme has been started. The independent 14 Women of the footpath of Mirza market have been felicitated with a Phoolam Gamocha and as a gift a blanket has been given to encourage not only them but also the other women to come out and take part in the economic development of the family as well as society. All the members of the cell, students have taken part in the programme. The programme is very lively and encouraging and as the backward section of the society who have contributed much in the progress of the society but whose work have not been recognised. The programme is successful one as it is not limited to the college campus only. Thus, the programme come to end.
